Raven, Playing With the Razor

In my manor start no fight
Take no chances with me
Watch your mouth heading south
A flying lesson for free
You sold me out
And they put me away
But now I'm back
I promise, you're gonna pay
Pick your window, you're leaving
Pick your window, you're leaving

You're leaving right now

Jelly Knight and Eddie Huggins see They all say you put the finger on me

Bring out your bottles, your knives and your chains

I've got a .22, I'm gonna blow out your brains

You sold me out

And they put me away

But now I'm back

I promise, you're gonna pay

Pick your window, you're leaving

Pick your window, you're leaving

You're leaving right now

Pick your window, you're leaving

Pick your window, you're leaving

You're leaving right now

Pick your window, you're leaving

Pick your window, you're leaving

You're leaving right now

For you I got some concrete shoes

I got them made to measure

To make you walk the plank tonight

Well, that would be my pleasure

You sold me out

And they put me away

But now I'm back

I promise, you're gonna pay

Pick your window, you're leaving

Pick your window, you're leaving

You're leaving right now

Pick your window, you're leaving

Pick your window, you're leaving

You're leaving right now
