

Raven-Symon, Gravity

A child so fragile
Tryin' to make a way through
Told to work hard
And all her dreams will come true
Cold hearts, and closed minds
Ignorance runs through their veins
Unconcerned with what's at stake
We share this world
Always lookin' for a truce
Talkin' peaceful
But what they say's not what they do
We try to hide the pain that makes us divide
We shall, we shall overcome (Oh!)
We'll have the love that makes us stronger (stronger)
We'll have the piece that sets us free (It'll set you free)
Soon will come the time (Soon will come the time)
When everyone can rise up (Oh!) and we all will be released from gravity
This child still hopeful, turns the other cheek
And sometimes it gets hard holding on to what she believes
That time will come when everyone will finally see
There's no need for sufferin'
We'll have the love (We'll have the love) that makes us stronger (Oh!)
We'll have the piece (We'll have the piece) that sets us free (yeah!)
Soon will come the time (Soon will come the time)
When everyone can rise up and we all will be released from gravity
We are the same inside
So look into my eyes
Let's put away our fears
Just for one night
Acceptance is the way
It's in both you and me
Let's try to work together now
We'll We'll have the love that makes us stronger
We'll have the piece that sets us free
Soon will come the time (Soon will come the time)
When everyone can rise up (Oh!) and we all will be released from gravity (We'll be released)
[Chorus: Fades]
We'll have the love that makes stronger
We'll have the piece that sets us free
Soon will come the time
