

Ray Boltz, Peaceful Harbor

I've been sailing these seas for most of all these years Riding the crest of a wave, made of tears I've been drifting on a troubled sea traveling aimlessly till I put my anchor down on Peaceful Harbor

Well the winds of despair were blowing on my face till the day I felt the gentle breeze of amazing Grace So I chartered a brand new course Let the Savior be my guiding Host Then I put my anchor down on Peaceful Harbor

Now I've emptied all my cargo on the docks of Heavens gate Troubled seas I'm traveling no more My sailing life is over My legs have felt the land Standing now upon the other shore

Well I'm watching the sun set down on a peaceful sea Never in all my life have I felt so free Now I'm standing upon the shore sailing out no more since I put my anchor down in Peaceful Harbor
since I put my anchor down in Peaceful Harbor
since I put my anchor down in Peaceful Harbor
