Ray Wilson, Ever The Reason

Upon my life Love on an honest day The memory of you will slowly fade Within I hold Hold it all alone

The fire in my soul begins to burn Better to be alone Better be alone It has to be said

Better to be alone Better be alone (I believe in me)

No sense in holding on No eyes to see clear Pretend to gain control of my life

Better to be alone Better be alone It has to be said Better to be alone Better be alone It has to be said (I believe in me)

No sense in holding on No eyes to see clear Pretend to gain control of my life
