

Rea Garvey, Hold Me Now

What words should we use
To say how we feel
We're both afraid to lose
Something real
So just hold me now
Don't look for words
Just hold me now
I am sure it wont hurt
More than these feelings
Crashing around me
More than the thought
That you're gone
So just hold me now
I'm lost on this silent
Just hold me now
We're swimming in silence
Why are there feelings?
And what am I trying to hide?
The mirror never lies
