

Reach The Sky, The Miles Before Us

Sometimes I look around and wonder how we made it this far.
With each day that passed I realized how much you mean to me.
But sometimes I see how easy it would be for me to turn and run away.
Take a look in my eyes, you can tell that I will be by your side.
We've had some good and more than our share of bad
But it's brought us together.
And it was all by chance and now that it's undying,
You will never walk alone.
But sometimes I see how easy it would be for me to turn and run away.
Take a look in my eyes, you can tell that I will be by your side.
If you look around you'll always find me near.
Your friend forever, standing right here, if you look around,
You'll always find me near, your friend forever standing right here,
And I'm standing right here.
