

Real Friends, A Little Too Nice

I can never keep my mouth shut
But I can sure as hell keep my fingers crossed
My jaw's been hitting the sidewalk
Like branches in a storm
Your feelings eating up my driveway
It's a little too warm, a little too
Let's do this all night
All night
I bet my last dollar
That me and you could never just talk

So hey, let's talk it all out
This sounds a little too nice to
So hey, talk everything out
This sounds a little too nice to you

You and I will stand hand in young hand
Back then we'd have conversation
And not confrontation
We'd just open our mouths
And spit those bad words through our broken teeth
So let's do this all night
All night

So hey, let's talk it all out
This sounds a little too nice to
So hey, talk everything out
This sounds a little too nice to you

I bet my last dollar
That me and you could never just talk
I bet my last dollar
That me and you could never just talk
I bet my last dollar
That me and you could never just talk
I bet my last dollar
That me and you could never just talk

So hey, let's talk it all out
This sounds a little too nice
So hey, let's talk it all out
This sounds a little too nice to
So hey, talk everything out
This sounds a little too nice to you