

Real Friends, Old And All Alone

When we grow up I hope that you end up old and all alone
[x2]

You wouldn't know a good thing even if it slapped the makeup right off of your face
Burn down the bridges just in time for last call
Keep digging yourself neck deep into selfishness
I doubt that you'll ever find out who you really are

When we grow up I hope that you end up old and all alone
Keep falling over that same fucking step on your front porch
(Your front porch!)
Most people learn from their mistakes
But you'll just stay here tripping on the same mistakes
You always do

No one's knocked you off your feet, they say what you want to hear
You're living proof that we don't always get what we deserve
But you're really nothing special
Just another crack in the sidewalk
You never meant anything to me
Or anyone for more than one night
No one's gonna stick around for when you're broken down and blacked out

When we grow up I hope that you end up old and all alone
Keep falling over that same fucking step on your front porch
(Your front porch!)
Most people learn from their mistakes
But you'll just stay here tripping on the same mistakes
You always do

Throw away your early twenties
Giving up on everyone and everything around you
It never came so easy
[x2]

When we grow up I hope that you end up old and all alone
Keep falling over that same fucking step on your front porch
(Your front porch!)
Most people learn from their mistakes
But you'll just stay here tripping on the same mistakes
You always do

Maybe you realize what you did, what it changed
But I doubt it
Even if you do, I will wait here
I will be here!
