

Reamonn, Picture Of Heaven cause I've got something that you can't have it's a picture of heaven that I stole from the dead and I've got something in my room gonna open it up and let the light shine through cause I've seen heaven in the light of your pain

I could feel your warmth as you walked through the flame I could see your tears washing your face could you see my light guide you to this place
got a picture of you in my room gonna open it up let the light shine trough let the light shine trough let the light shine on you yeah I've seen heaven in the strength of your eyes and the fear of living well you loose when you fly but now you're stronger stronger than life your flame in the fire, light up the night
got a picture of you in my room
gonna open it up let the light shine trough
come on come on be strong, come on come on be strong
come on come on be strong, come on come on cause I got something in my room gonna open it up cause it reminds me of You
