

Reba McEntire, Somehow You Do (piosenka z filmu)

So you feel like you've run outta hope
Carrying all that weight
Your back's about to break
And you're standing at the end of your rope
You wanna give up the fight
You see no relief in sight
And it's hard to keep the faith
But the darkest night still finds the day
When you think it's the end of the road
It's just 'cause you don't know where the road's leading to
When you think that the mountain's too high
And the ocean's too wide, you'll never get through
Some way, somehow, somehow you do
So you feel like you're right on the brink
Oh, you're in the battle alone
And life's punched a hole in your soul
Yeah, you've been brought to your knees
But there's better days up ahead
You'll be back on your feet again
And you're gonna be ok
Oh, the darkest night will find the day
When you think it's the end of the road
It's just 'cause you don't know where the road's leading to
When you think that the mountain's too high
And the ocean's too wide
And you'll never get through
Oh, some way, somehow, somehow you do
'Cause it's those times, it's those times when times get bad
You'll find the strength you didn't know you even had Somehow oh, you'll get through this
When you think it's the end of the road
It's just 'cause you don't know where the road's leading to
When you think that the mountain's too high
And the ocean's too wide
And you'll never get through
Oh no, some way, somehow, somehow you do
Some way, somehow, somehow you do, mm
