

Reba McEntire, The One I Dream

I caught you smiling at me again
Out of the corner of my eye.
It isn't easy when I have to pretend
That you're just another guy.
I can't let anyone ever know.
I can't let my feelings show.

Cause you're the one I dream about,
When I fall asleep at night.
And you're the one I think about
When he turns out the light
Now it's so hard to live without your love to hold me tight.
How I wish that he was you tonight.

Whenever you are close to me my heart
Just won't be still.
I hope that no one else can see the
Way you make me feel.
If only I didn't have to hide all this loving I
Hold inside

Repeat chorus
