Reba McEntire, This Picture

(S. Alan Taylor/Lisa Palas)

That old picture with my arm around you Tore it to pieces this morning at two Score one for me I took your portrait off the living room wall Then I started on the ones in the hall Had a bonfire I decided it was time to forget So I got rid of every picture you left

But what do I do with this picture of you in my mind I close my eyes and I still see you saying goodbye I know I'd be okay if I could just throw away This picture

I walk alone down a crowded street
And see your face in everybody I meet
When's it gonna end
Every single night I crawl into bed
Hoping sleep will keep you out of my head
I should know better
Everytime I turn around there you are
I never thought your memory would go this far

But what do I do with this picture of you in my mind I close my eyes and I still see you saying goodbye I know I'd be okay if I could just throw away This picture

But what do I do with this picture of you in my mind I close my eyes and I still see you saying goodbye I know I'd be okay if I could just throw away This picture