

Rebecca Lavelle, Broken Dreams

Its so fragile
Easy broken
Its so fragile, and it goes so slow
But when hope, that sweet, sweet angel
Brings the dream you thought had gone
Dont turn away
Turn back and listen
Yeah turn around, oh turn to me
Dont break the dream, its waiting for your
It can give you what you need

Chorus:
But broken dreams linger on
They tie you up, they bind like steel
You can escape, but do you want to?
Let me in
Let me dream your dreams
Let me dream your dreams

And dont you question
How you got here
Dont try to think, dont think to judge
And theres no price
There never will be
Cant value hope,
cant value love

Oh broken dreams linger on
They tie you up, they bind like steel
You can struggle, or surrender
Let me in
Let me dream your dreams
Let me dream your dreams

Its not always clear, but always there
Sometimes were blind and lost for looking
We look too hard at empty air
Cant live on air
Cant live an fear
So we live on dreams

Chorus
