

Reckless Kelly, Come On Over

Lately I've been goin' crazy
I can't seem to find a way to make it go
I feel so jaded
What's come over me I'll never know
But the sun comes up
And I drive a truck to work
I stumble through the day
My boss thinks I'm a crook

And I'm thinkin' things might be all right, if you could
Come on over
Come on over
Come on over tonight

I woke up with another hangover
I stayed up way too late, it's a big old shame
It's not this mainly
I wake up every day feelin' just the same
Because I played all night in a rockin' rollin' band
I slip the sunglasses on God, I hope you understand

And I'm thinkin' things are gonna be just fine, if you could
Come on over
Come on over
Come on over tonight

If there ever was a time it should be now
Let's stop and turn this train around

Well I got to wonderin'
Just how my life got so out of control
From out of nowhere
Standin' right outside on my front porch
And when I saw your face
Spread peace all around
And there was nothin' on this earth
That could ever bring me down

And I'm thinkin' things are gonna be just fine, now that you've
Come on over
Come on over
Come on over tonight
Come on over tonight
