

Red Blonde, Pretty Baby

With every word that I tell
You tell me there is no point
That I'm talking in vain
But I won't stop, I won't stop

Until I make you understand
This smile will kill the pain
So you just have to believe me
There's no need to be sad if you're young and free

There's something that you should do
Put some clothes on,
It's gonna change your point of view

You should know by now
You don't get the right to feel down
You should let it be
Hold my hand now and listen to me

Pretty baby, we can make it
You don't have to mind because
The world is going crazy
Pretty baby, don't you get it?
Still by me tonight,
We can make it better

You tell me I'm still a kid cause
I believe in miracles and happy endings
And all the time that I see that you get Stuck with words and you forget what really matters

And if you say you're lucky
I'm gonna teach you how to feel the sun on foggy weather
No, I won't stop until I make you
Put a smile on your face without pretending

You should know by now
You don't get the right to feel down
You should let it be
Hold my hand now and listen to me

Pretty baby, we can make it
You don't have to mind because
The world is going crazy
Pretty baby, don't you get it?
Still by me tonight,
We can make it better
