

Red Bridge, Northern cross

Hey you! I tell you story which was very long ago
In place where everything and everyone was born
There was a five stars spilled around the sky above
Then greatest Zeus said: let there be northern cross
The magnificent swan appeared and spread his wings
Showed four cardinal points legendary bird
For many centuries hes a sign for us on sky
As sign given to the blind man in one eye
Hunters in the forest in the middle of nowhere
Sailors and the castways very center of the sea
Looking out for signpost gazing at the sky
Better find it faster if you dont want to die
In the darkness i will find
Even inmost piece of mind
You are lost one guard
Want to fly so high