

Red Lorry Yellow Lorry, You Are Everything

Head in my hands
And it looks like rain again
I could float away
To castles in the sun

You are everything in this world to me

Watch me go
Like never before
And it's touch and go
I'm falling through the floor

You are everything in this world to me
You are everything in this world to me

Vision was strong
I saw through your eyes
And time stands still
When you look to the skies

You are everything in this world to me
You are everything in this world to me

Head in my hands
And it looks like rain again
I could float away
To castles in the sun

You are everything in this world to me
You are everything in this world to me
