

Redcore, In Flavor Of Today

If you embrace all what life is coming to
You might see through your own pain
Without that darkness that remains

Even when you thought that you have failed
Remember there is no mistake
But experience to intake

That voice inside is the reason to comply
Reach inside your friend can never lie
You can't escape it's always in your way
Speak your way in favor of today. In favor of today

In given time, soon an inner light will shine and free you from what's left behind
So you can move on with your life

Instead of hate, choose to see and feel beyond
The limits of sight, touch and sound
And witness where you can be found

That voice inside is the reason to comply
Reach inside your friend can never lie
You can't escape it's always in your way
Speak your way in favor of today. In favor of today