

Redlightmusic, Fading Away

After some time we fell over the line
So we fall, we fall
Starting the fire with our burning desire
When you cried I tried
Now you want to take flight; I can't keep up the fight
I sing, I sing

Seasons change and you're fading away
I still think about you
Years go by and you're fading away
I still think about you

Subtle the change, we were sadly estranged
And we fall, we fall
Letters from you for a time now they're few
I wait, I wait
Now you want to take flight; I can't keep up the fight
I sing, I sing

Seasons change and you're fading away
I still think about you
Years go by and you're fading away
I still think about you
You're fading away, fading away, fading away

And we fall. Still I just can't say goodbye

Seasons change and you're fading away
I still think about you
Years go by and you're fading away
I still think about you
You're fading away, fading away, fading away
