

Reel, Beautiful Affair

When ya feel like laying low
And the mountains seem no closer than before
And you wonder why
You know in your mind that there's nowhere to hide
And the only way is living to survive
Makes ya feel alive

When all the doors swing open
Your life's unfolding before your very eyes
Such a strange affair
Walking around, come into the sound
Forget your doubts, feel the air
It's a beautiful affair

There comes a time when ya looking around
And you see the ocean rise before your eyes
Showing no surprise
Make ya way down to the shore
And you climb aboard and gave yourself a smile
Makes ya feel alive

Whenever the doors swing open,
Your life's unfolding before your very eyes
Such a strange affair
Walking around, come into the sound,
Forget your doubts, feel the air
It's a beautiful affair

Whenever the doors swing open,
Your life's unfolding before your very eyes
Such a strange affair
Walking around, come into the sound,
Forget your doubts, feel the air
Beautiful affair

See how the the doors swing open, your life's unfolding before your very eyes
Such a strange affair
Walking around, come into the sound, forget your doubts, feel the air
It's a beautiful affair
