

Refused, Everlasting

this one will not change - turn down that fad again complacency, overcome, overdone everlasting - I have won - no second chance it has just begun stuck down in convenience tradition chosen way who describes, who decides our idea of fun I will not become what I despise I found a reason - your truths a lie directed, attached - reason will overcome the bounds of discomfort we still are waiting - struggle to overcome generations of second hand liars struggle to overcome the past mistakes...
