

Refused, Where's Equality?

Look at the differences we've created
Marked, branded thought to be hated
Biological differences can't imply violence
But mindless indoctrination can
Values maintained and held through time
Force fed upon our weak minds
Yesterday's segregation is still a truth
Equal values, no way

You say that things are different -
No, no it's still the same
You say that things are different -
Some things don't ever fucking change

Some say we have an equal society
No, no it's not the way I see
When people are oppressed for their sexuality
And AIDS is still a "gay" disease
When women don't have the right to choose
Cause it's against church morality
Then how can we say
How can we claim
That we have equality?

You say that things are different -
No, no it's still the same
You say that things are different -
Some things don't ever fucking change

Where's equality?
Where's equality?
Where's equality?
Where's equality?
Where's equality?
Where's equality?
Where's equality?
Where's equality?
