

Regurgitator, Future Is Plastic

am i just an ad for a better version of myself for is there something to do is this just another way of packing it and selling it off or maybe could it be new when one size fits all life becomes a fuckin bore.. you know it's true you're an outlaw with your standingback against the shopping mall.. of course they're coming for you cash engendered fantasy propping up reality someone sell me something - anything advertainment snatch - pop sell it off if you know what i mean right drug pop shot help me maybe get it up i guess i couldn't come clean this economic crash leaves everybody cashing in now tell me right from wrong yeah the future is plastic light bulbs flashin it but there's nobody home patent personality
i will buy it happily
someone sell me something - anything
