

Regurgitator, I Love Tommy Mottola

i love tommy mottola i was born on a sunday sucked my thumbs on a monday i got done on a tuesday whoa...
oh oh

don't you know that we'd be so good together you could be my rock and i'd be your feather just remember some things don't last forever but there's always one thing of which i'm sure 'cause it's plain to see when it's meant to be you do what you do inevitably so why be lost when you can be found stop holding me down!

i was born on a wednesday stuffed my plums on a thursday all this made me number one on the friday whoa hey hey hey

don't you know that we'd be something together i could be your songbird tied to a tether and when you've got an arse looking this good in leather we could swallow the world down whole and it's plain to see that it's meant to be you do what you do inevitably

when you've got something that's worth sharing around...

i love tommy mottola (x4)

look at me man yeah i've got the plan i'll be your soft young body baby you be the hand won't shape me scrape me into a dream i'll be your dirty diva, pageant queen look at you man yeah you got the plan you got your fingers on the button right across this land liftin' me shiftin' me into the world tell me once again baby i'm your favourite girl...

when you've got something that's worth sharing around...
