

Regurgitator, My Ego

One night while I lay sleeping
A phantom ghost came creeping
He entered through my door
And tip toed across the floor

And when he reached where I lay He leaned right to my ear though softly he seemed to say his words were very clear

Hi Me, he said how you been It's been too long slip me some skin
My goodness how you've grown
And hasn't time really flown

I've come to tell you what's what
And really fk with your head Tell you what's hot and what's not You're gonna wish you were dead hello, welcom to my ego whereeva i go he goes ain't it just so creepy freaky-deaky

o no, now we're out control acting like an arsehole
welcome to the show

Now looking in the mirror
Face to face with the horror
It's apocalypse now
But starring Stephan Chiau

This guy is really scary
This weirdo's freaking me out He's asian but he's hairy
It's freaking creeping me out

I don't know who this dude thinks He's tryna fool and convince You his bullshit doesn't stink
And... how big his dick is How slick this hit is and how sick his shit is

And how fit his bitch is Think he should mind his business

Last night right after the show
I had to let myself go
I got too needy wouldn't leave me
For one second alone

But I still sleep with myself
That's kinda complicated
I steal the blanket as well
That gets me so frustrated

No touchy touch... But who knows What goes on while I sleeping, pop no doze
lie there and watch me softly gently breathing

Write poetry and sweet prose
And send it to myself We'll always be together cause there's nobody else
