

Reilly Maggie, You Brightened Up The Darkness

How to show you what I'm feeling
And try to make you understand
Won't you take this heart, this longing
I see my future in your hands
Oh, so simple now you're here
Like breathing out and breathing in
You brightened up the darkness
Gave a reason to begin
And you brought me so much happiness
There's no reason to give in
I watch as evening light is fading
And know you lie within my arms
Can't feel you feel my heart beat faster
I'll never let you come to harm
It's so peaceful now you're here
I know this love goes on and on
You brightened up the darkness
Gave a reason to begin
And you brought me so much happiness
There's no reason to give in
And now you're here, your love it
Fills my dreams with ecstasy
There's only wonder in my life
You brightened up the darkness
Gave a reason to begin
And you brought me so much happiness
There's no reason to give in
You brightened up the darkness
Gave a reason to begin
And you brought me so much happiness
There's no reason to give in
You brightened up the darkness
