Relient K, My Cape Got Stuck In The Phone Boot

What do I do That amounts to anything at all wake me if I fall... asleep

My goals are what they should be but my mind will have to change and see things another way

I'll be Taken a bull by the horns take the action in this world Jumping into the ring and take control of everything

The blame im not thinking thats me of course I look in the mirror and I see the source spot my problems going to change my ways I need Gods love I need his grace i'm going to chage my ways- yeah yeah today

once again
I've fallen into sin its like quicksand around my soul the more I struggle the stronger it holds onto me i want to be free want to be able to see that theres another way if I check myself to day I want to take a bull by the horns take some action in this world Jumping into the ring and take control of everything
