

Relient K, My Cape Is Stuck In The Phonebooth

What do I do
That amounts to
Anything at all
Wake me if I fall... asleep

My goals are what
They should be but
My mind will have to change
And see things another way

I'll be Taken a bull by the horns
And taking action in this war
Jumping into the ring
And taking control of everything

The blame im not thinking thats me of course
I look in the mirror and I see the source
I spot my problems gonna change my ways
I need Gods love I need his grace
I'm going to chage my ways- yeah yeah today

Once again
I've fallen into sin
Its like quicksand around my soul
The more I struggle the stronger it holds
Onto me i want to be free
Want to be able to see
That theres another way
If I check myself to day I want to

Take a bull by the horns
And take some action in this war
Jumping into the ring
And take control of everything

The blame Im not thinking thats me of course
I look in the mirror and I see the source
I spot my problems going to change my ways
I need Gods love I need His grace
I'm going to change my ways- yeah yeah today
