Renderfly, Collide

Sandman always stands in the way of your brilliant parade that is calling to join in,
You know I'd be dancing with you if I didn't have one last dream to attend to

Dreaming caught me looking away from your beautiful day that was starved for attention Somehow you have harnessed the sun and are shining it on to our dreams destination

Up I will take you and wake you to watch two dreams

Collide

Two months on a wing and a day isn't too long to wait for a seed to be growing No fear leaving enemies strain, I'll be coming to you before autumn is blowing

Space eyes and a world as a stage. I can't wait in the wings with you calling my entrance Sea strand, put the siren in beige, I will sail into you on a swans sighing end dance

Up I will take you and wake you to watch
two dreams

Collide
