

Republica, World Ends In The Morning

I love every promise
That you made to yourself
And every tiny white lie
That you convinced yourself
And every single fall out
And every compromise
The world it ends in the morning
What on earth will we do tonight?
And every single record
That you pass judgement on
And every single pop star
That you had a crush on
And every little vicious thought
That came into you mind
The world it ends in the morning
What on earth will we do tonight?
Its been a long time coming
Its been a long time coming
The world it ends in the morning
What earth will we do tonight?
Ahhhhhhh.....
Ahhhhhhh.....
The world it ends in the morning
What earth will we do tonight?