

Rez Band, Autograph

Yeah.

I said, "Sign here please," and you inscribed your name in my heart,
Didn't know what I was getting into, or what was getting into me, for that matter,
A little slow to understand,
Love was the word I was after, so your name kept coming to my lips again and again,
Again and again.

Now I understand he wanted the heart of the world,
You're his signature, the very stamp of his soul,
Spirit in the wind,
Agony of the cross all told, signed in blood,
Signed in blood, ooh, yeah.

Forgery, it happens all the time,
Your truth ain't even on their minds,
Though it's written down in black and white, blood red,
Jesus is up from the dead,
I know that he's coming again.

Your autograph touching the heart of my world,
Your signature in me, the mark of your soul,
Spirit in my heart,
Crosses of love, my goal,
I want to be clear and bold, your autograph.

Your autograph touching the heart of my world,
Your autograph in me, the mark of your soul.
