

Rez Band, Hidden Man

Hidden man, see-saw soul,
Ricochet world, domino.

On the isle of independence, in the straits of hideaway,
You boomerang your vengeance through a world you choose to blame.

Fire flicker, hidden man,
You felt thunder from his hand,
Frost and dampness on your plan,
Invaded by the son of man.

Healing words, breath of the Son,
No use hiding, nowhere to run,
Hidden man is overcome by the love and the light, and the blood of the Son.

You...you know the truth when you hear it,
Though sometimes you may fear it, how we need to get near it,
He...he came down from the heavens to declare us forgiven,
Without him, we ain't living.

I...I have made my decision,
I believe in the vision that the saviour has giving,
Hidden man, no more shall you be hidden,
In his light you are living, by his blood you're forgiven.
