

Rez Band, Summerthrow

Empty room, it's a holiday,
The sky, the walls, a familiar grey,
If I could find some peace of mind...
If one day again I'd feel the summer's breath...
Oh, summerthrow.

Summer, throw your arms around me,
I want to see the sun again,
Fill me with your dandelion wine,
Summerthrow.

Summer, catch me now, I'm falling on a winter field in rain,
Cold yet melting down, without a hope,
And I lost myself, I lost my soul,
Oh, I need your summerthrow.

Summer, throw your arms around me,
I want to see the sun again,
Fill me with your dandelion wine,
Summerthrow,
Summer, throw your hair about me,
I want to feel and see your spirit,
Oh, I want to see it shine.

Pull me deep into your sky,
I know those golden eyes have seen my failings and my shame,
But I'm buried now inside the flame, fully claimed by the glow.

Summerthrow,
Summer, throw your arms around me,
I want to see it shine,
Summerthrow.

Summer, watch me now, I'm weary,
Could I rest here in your arms awhile and listen to your song?
Now I feel I've got a home forever.

Oh, summerthrow,
Summer, throw your arms around me,
I want to see the sun again,
Fill me with your dandelion wine,
Summerthrow,
Summer, throw your hair about me,
I want to feel and see your spirit,
Oh, I want to see it shine.

Summerthrow,
Summerthrow.

Summerthrow,
Oh, summerthrow.
