

Rhapsody, Holy Wind

Wise and mighty you are force of the Earth
Fierce becomes the sea at your command

Winds of the south, winds of the north
My force raises hearing your call
Blow on my heart filling my soul
Give me the force of the storm

Holy wind- let me fly with your wings
Guide me far- from the way of sin
Holy Wind- ride again on earth and sea
Cross the sky- kiss the mountains and my hills

For all the time I will ride be my guide
I will follow your sign for a Just life

Winds of the south, winds of the north
My force raises hearing your call
Blow on my heart filling my soul
Give me the force of the storm

Holy wind- let me fly with your wings
Guide me far- from the way of sin
Holy Wind- ride again on earth and sea
Cross the sky- kiss the mountains and my hills
