

Rheostatics, Marginalized

Tim Vesely

All rise.

The new king of the world just crowned himself tonight
By the blinding light of cathode lies.

Surprise.

We've been muted. We've been marginalized.

Unleashed.

Delusions of one human head, one tiny beast
Become the very air we breathe.

Surprise.

By the blinding light of cathode lies.

Has this head been denied what inspires love of kind,
And in turn try to turn the world away from love inspired?

All rise.

It's blind

To substitute with laser guides

The eyes, and drown the deafening din of angry cries,
And in turn try to turn the world away from love inspired.

All rise. Yeah.

All rise.

The new king of the world just crowned himself tonight
By the blinding light of cathode lies.

Surprise.

We've been muted. We've been swept aside.