

Rhett Akins, Trouble With A Woman

She said maybe I do, maybe I don't
Maybe I will, maybe I won't
A woman just knows how to keep a man guessing.
Well it's a complicated mystery,
Been written down through history.
But I think its time somebody made this confession.
See the trouble with a woman ain't that she's always right,
The trouble with a woman, oh its more than what meets the eye,
Its easy to love 'em, oh what so hard to understand,
The trouble with a woman, well its usually a man.
She can change your mind just like that,
She could steel your heart and never look back.
Make you believe you just can't live without 'em.
Well its the way she smiles and holds you close,
Lets you think your in control,
It ain't no wonder i'm always thinking about 'em. yeah
Well the trouble with a woman, well it in't that she's always right,
The trouble with a woman, lord its more than what meets the eye,
Its easy to love 'em, oh what so hard to understand,
The trouble with a woman, well its usually a man.
Yeah the trouble with a woman, oh it ain't that she's always right,
The trouble with a woman, lord its more Than what meets the eye,
