

Rhodes Happy, To The Funnyfarm

i'm on my way i can feel it coming on my brain's been strained of all reality
i'm on my way
to the funnyfarm
and when i go i'll bring with me
both of my bros
i've lost my way through this world of profanities and i thrive on the wind and the rain and the cold i've lost my way through this world of profanities and i'll not find it before i'm very old i need reassurance that i'll always be insane i want my teddy bear to lay on and when i go i'll be efficient at making ashtrays when i go i'll do nothing but catch me moonrays For I know what you don't know And I see things you'll never see And I've a different way of living you know And I've such a different frame of mind And
so...
i'm on my way
and when i go i'll bring with me
both of my bros
