

Rhonda Vincent, I've Forgotten You

I've Forgotten You

Well its snowing in Miami and its hailing in LA
Money's growing like green apples on the trees
I've been hanging out with Elvis, yeah and all my bills are paid
And they're giving away Cadillacs for free
The whole world gets along
And I haven't thought about you once since you've been gone

Chorus:

I've forgotten you
I've forgotten every single time you kissed me
I don't miss it like you think I do
I've forgotten you
How you held me and it felt like it's what you were born to do
If I lie enough it might come true
I've forgotten you

There's a million things about you I don't remember any more
Like that time we got that cabin up in Boulder
I don't remember how you kissed me up against that old oak door
Ain't it funny how things fade right when it's over
Yeah, I'm doing fine
I sleep just like a little baby every night

Break

Chorus

Can't you see how I've moved on
No, I haven't thought about you once since you've been gone

Chorus
