

Rhonda Vincent, One Step Ahead Of The Blues

Sometimes I feel confident like I'm in control, Rolling out in Vegas
and landing every roll.
But lately I ain't winning it's snake eyes every time, I'm losing and I'm down to my last dime.

(Chorus)

Now every day I hope and pray to make it through one more,
As the winter wind rushes in and chills me to the core.
I've lost so much that nothing is all I've got to lose, It's one day till tomorrow
and one step ahead of the blues.

Don't tell me that I'll be alright that's something you don't know, Or tell me not to be uptight or not to let it show.
My confidence is sliding
this I know is true, I'm barely just one step ahead of the blues.

(Chorus 2x)

It's one day till tomorrow
and one step ahead of the blues.
