

Rhubarb, What's That Sound

When I was out,
By myself I was alone,
Always talking on the phone,
But no-ones listening baby.

As for love,
I tried it once, it broke my heart.
Maybe I was too young,
Its too much effort baby.

Hey, what's that sound,
What's that sound.
Something is rumbling in my soul,
Making its way to my back door.
Dragging me to my feet for one more time.

I can ignore,
Someone knocking down my door.
I just sit here on the floor'
Its too much hassle baby.

Hey, what's that sound,
What's that sound.
Something is rumbling in my soul,
Making its way to my back door.
Dragging me to my feet for one more time.

Hey, what's that sound,
Hey, what's that sound,
What's that sound.
What's that sound
What's that sound
What's that sound
