

Rhyn, Amorphous

This one's not about me cos I'm not who you think I am
Why do they always doubt me? Cos I am a happy man
Why do my friends reject me? When I try to show my face
Why does no one respect me? Maybe I don't know my place

Maybe I'm the one who deserves to be abused
In the meantime I'll have fun while I don't know I'm being used

I walk on walls and feel strange
I'm going down, down, down cos I'll never change

Am I your knight in armour? Better keep my helmet on You'll only see yourself then, tell me, where has your beauty gone?
You were so pretentious but we had chemistry
I guess a pimp like me just needs a slag for company

Hush now, don't cry, you heard what he said
This world would be a better place if you and I were

I walk on walls and feel strange
I'm going down, down, down cos I'll never change
Go back where they know your name
You're going down, down, down cos you'll always be the same

Can you hear me now?
Guess who's laughing now?
