

Richard Hawley, You Don't Miss Your Water (Till

In the still of the night I call out your name
You know and nothing feels right
And it wont do again
You say you're gonna leave me now
You're turned away on your side, you kill the light from my eyes
You played to deceive me now
Like a thief in the night you stole the love from my world
And you don't miss your water 'til your river runs dry
And you dont miss your lover 'til theyre waving goodbye

Well I hope that you know
That I'll still see your eyes In the deep of my soul
All the days of my life
And you say you're gonna leave me now
You're turned away on your side, you kill the light from my eyes
You played to deceive me now
Like a thief in the night you stole the love from my world
And you don't miss your water 'til the river runs dry
And you dont miss your lover 'til theyre waving goodbye
Bye bye bye bye

You're turned away on your side, you kill the light from my eyes
You played to deceive me now
Like a thief in the night you stole the love from my world
And you don't miss your water 'til your river runs dry
And you dont miss your lover 'til theyre waving goodbye

And you don't miss your water 'til your river runs dry
And you don't miss your lover 'til theyre waving goodbye
And you don't miss your water 'til your river runs dry
And you don't miss your lady 'til she's waving goodbye
Bye bye bye bye bye
