

Richard Jellinek, Procrastination

VERSE 1

This is me lying on the couch
Watching TV, playing game
While so many things
I should have done today

The clock is ticking, time flies so fast
I should move myself at last
There is no chance for braking thru
Coz I'm constant love with you

CHORUS

You let me live in all my sweetest laziness
You keep me thinking I have so much time to waste
Instead of work I'm waiting for salvation
My guardian angel for each day
My sweet procrastination!

VERSE 2

Getting things done on time is fine
It's so easy to say
While so many things around me
Are distracting me again

Months go by I waste my time
I said goodbye to ambitious plans
I'm so curious where I would be
If I broke these chains on myself□

BRIDGE

I tried to hide, to run away
Unsuccessfully once again
I tried to break this stupid fate,
But I'm in love with you again

CHORUS

You let me live in all my sweetest laziness
You keep me thinking I have so much time to waste
Instead of work I'm waiting for salvation
My guardian angel for each day
My sweet procrastination!

CHORUS

You keep me living in my comfy golden cage you make me calm and allow everything to wait
You set me free from my further bigger plans
You are the one with the largest base of fans

You keep me thinking I have so much time to waste
Instead of work I'm waiting for salvation
My guardian angel for each day
My sweet procrastination!
