

Richard Marx, One More Try

There was nothing missing,
It was just a case of foolishness
Girl, I must've been crazy
Something I would just as soon forget
I can only say I'm sorry and leave it up to you to say the rest

If you want to go, girl
I won't stand in your way
But I'll stand by you if you decide you want to stay
Baby, don't you see
Doesn't have to be forever or goodbye
All I'm asking for is one more try

I'm the one who hurt you,
Still I know the pain you're going through
And even if you show forgiveness,
There may be too much damage to undo
I hear these voices telling me to not give up on you

Chorus

My heart and soul are searching
Trying to find a way
To bring your love back to me

Still I hear these voices telling me to not give up on you

Chorus
