Richard Marx, Surrender To Me

Is that what we've been together much too long
The answer may not be in black and white

We're always trying to prove who's right or wrong
Yet know we're giving up without a fight

But I know when you're gone
I'll wish I'd held on

Chorus:
So, baby, surrender to me
There'll be no holding back now
So, baby, surrender to me tonight

I don't want our love to cause you so much pain
If this is how it's going to be I'll walk away

Neither one of us should ever say goodbye
Let's forget about the past and who's to blame

'cause when this is all gone
We'll wish we'd held on

Chorus

How could this love be in danger
That used to be so good, so right
To think that fate could make us strangers
Has thrown me in your arms tonight

Chorus
