

Richard Thompson, Eastern rain

Rain comes from the east one night We watch it come To hang like beaded curtains till the morning