

Richie Aufrichtig, Silver Arrow

123 1234

I wave to you
In the hallway
And I say, "hi";

You wave back
In the hallway
As you pass me by

Sometimes I think this won't be
I should wait for another life
But then you smile

This won't work
When I'm waiting for one more day
When I look at you it hurts
'Cause I know what is not for me

Wait for me
Down by the park bench
Under the lights of the blue skies

The sight of you
Is making my heart melt, soar, and fly
Let's break the sadness and the sorrow
Of a heart and a silver arrow and me

Things are fine
When you're on my mind
It's time to see
That, hopefully, you'll fall in love with me
