

Richie Kotzen, Burn It Down

i drove a brand new car colored black and red and a big old house with a king-sized bed all money could buy was all that i had till one day i laughed and my woman said

you know you're playing with fire you burned it down to the ground down down down to the ground

i traveled in first class anytime i chose playing on the road town to town show to show and one day it all came to a head when she found her sister sleeping in my bed she said you're playing with fire you burn me down to the ground down down to the ground i went from black to red all my money spent from 5th Avenue down to living in a room from champagne on ice to canned beans and rice i lost everything i knew just by crossing you

you said you're playing with fire i burn it down to the ground
