

Richie Kotzen, You're Crazy

You lie to yourself, when you say that you changed your ways
'cause you can't change fate
I know how you're always all right, but you someday
Somebody is gonna set you stray

You come to my door, still half of what you did last night
You tell me that you want my time
Tears in your eyes, now you wanna say that you found the light
Girl, you better check your pride

Did you think I forget or did you think I get desperate and need you?

Baby, you're crazy
Do you think that I'm crazy?
I can never go back, after all of that (all of that) lying and cheating
Baby, you're crazy
Do you think that I'm crazy?
I can never go back to you
I don't wanna know what you're feeling

I pick up the phone and hear you tell me that you changed your ways
But I told you that you can't change fate
I hear what you say and I know how you play, but I'm out of the game
You're coming much too late

Did you think I was weak or did you think I get desperate and need you?

Break my heart and break my spirit
Kick me down again
But my faith leads me to healing

Baby, you're crazy
Do you think that I'm crazy?
I don't wanna try to believe in the life that you're feeding
Maybe you're crazy
Maybe I'm crazy too
'cause I'm gonna come back you one last time. I need you
