Rick Astley, Hopelessly

I walk the wire every nightI can't decide between wrong and rightI've lost control over the things i decide between wrong and rightI've lost control over the things in decide between wrong and rightI've lost control over the things in decide between wrong and rightI've lost control over the things in decide between wrong and rightI've lost control over the things in decide between wrong and rightI've lost control over the things in decide between wrong and rightI've lost control over the things in decide between wrong and rightI've lost control over the things in decide between wrong and rightI've lost control over the things in decide between wrong and rightI've lost control over the things in decide between wrong and rightI've lost control over the things in decide between wrong and rightI've lost control over the things in decide between wrong and rightI've lost control over the things in decide between wrong and rightI've lost control over the things in decide between wrong and rightI've lost control over the things in decide between wrong and rightI've lost control over the things in the things in the properties of the things in the things i
